

Thank You Marin Organic Glean Team!

You are the solution.

Glean (verb): to gather produce or grain left in the field by farmers

For six months every Monday, the Marin Organic Glean Team harvested extra foods from the fields of Marin Organic farms for the Organic School Lunch and Gleaning Program, enabling kids throughout Marin to eat local organic foods at schools and community centers. Together we met our local farmers, got our hands dirty, and we certainly had fun! Thank you for joining us!

Our Glean Team harvested the bounty from Indian Valley Organic Farm.

Star Route Farms in Bolinas provided many extra lettuces from us to glean.

Novato Unified School District initiated another Thanks-Gleaning Harvest event with us.

The Wrigley's team gleaned with us for a day of service too!

The Marin Organic Glean Team is resting for the winter, with plans to gather again in 2012.

Please stay tuned for more details....

Everyone is welcome to this special opportunity, newborns and elders alike. Bring your harvesting songs and musical instruments to share, and waxed produce boxes too! No RSVP required. Everything is provided. Carpooling is encouraged. Rain or Shine!

To join the Marin Organic Glean Team, please email Scott@MarinOrganic.org. For other Marin Organic volunteer opportunities, please email Kerry@MarinOrganic.org. Become a partner in our work: http://www.marinorganic.org/become_partner.php.

We look forward to seeing you!

